

Edinburgh's Vision for Inclusion

It is The City of Edinburgh Council's vision that inclusion lies at the heart of the culture, ethos and practice in all learning communities. An inclusive approach to education recognises diversity, minimises exclusion and holds the ambition that all children and young people are enabled to achieve their fullest potential.

A recent collaborative enquiry and improvement project involving inclusion experts from across Scotland found that Edinburgh has much to celebrate in its vision and approach, but also made recommendations for improvement. We want your help inform us on how these improvements can be made.

There are two ways you can share your views and get involved...

1. Attend a Vision for Inclusion locality or online event

At these events you will hear about the findings of the Collaborative Improvement, hear about and share examples of good practice and take part in discussions on how to take forward recommendations for improvement.
